

A Palestinian Family

From the roots of this tree
And the fountain of this spring
All the world can observe
The Dajani's are everywhere
The biggest in their homeland
The most spread in the world
In their origin they do pride
And in Palestine they believe
The new countries for some is a resort
But to Palestine they will return
From Jerusalem did they start
To Jaffa and Ghaza did they span
Serving is their goal
For their country they will die
Rich or poor, united they are
Prophet David's shrine is their prime
